

Something happened to my child... Now What?

Online Parent Information & Support Group

We are offering a free group for those parenting children and teens who experienced traumatic, scary, or challenging life events, such as:

- Sexual abuse
- Physical abuse
- Neglect
- Witnessing domestic violence
- Death/incarceration/serious illness of a caregiver
- Foster care placement
- Community violence

This group is not intended for those parenting children whose biggest concern is divorce/separation.

We will provide support and practical tips to answer your questions, like:

Should kids talk about what happened to them?

Are my child's challenging behaviors connected to their experiences?

How can I help?

And you can connect with other parents going through this, too. Our team specializes in trauma-informed care for these situations.
