

Administering & Interpreting the Ages and Stages Questionnaire: Social-Emotional Screener

Screening for mental health and social-emotional wellbeing is an important part of supporting the development and wellbeing of an infant or young child and their family.

This ARCh-sponsored workshop will use didactic and interactive activity to teach providers how to administer and score the ASQ-SE screener. It will then offer discussion to explore how to effectively share results with caregivers in a manner that is honest, hopeful, and provides motivation to participate in recommended Early Intervention and Mental Health services.

Learning objectives:

- Develop comfort administering the ASQ-SE screening tool
- Develop competency interpreting results of the ASQ-SE
